The 13th Congress was held in Merida, Yucatan, Mexico in 2006, from 28

February - 4 March. The Pre Congress Workshop was held on 28 February.

The Congress was attended by 550 renal physicians, scientists including 150 dietitians from all over the world. Several dietitians were invited as guest speakers at the main congress and the 2 free communications and poster sessions.

Selected presentations of this Congress were published in the Journal of Renal Nutrition in January 2007.

The 14th International Congress on Nutrition and Metabolism in Renal Disease will be held in Marseilles, France from 11-14 June 2008

The International Federation of Kidney Foundations (IFKF):(www.ifkf.net)

The 8th Annual Conference was held in Curitiba, Brazil, from 16-19 April 2007. Once again a Seminar for the Multidisciplinary Renal Healthcare Professionals was organised during this Conference. In addition to speakers from Brazil Pro-Renal and Pro-Rim Kidney Foundations from Southern Brazil, IFKF education committee Mrs Geraldine Biddle, RN and Marianne Vennegoor, RD, also contributed.

The IFKF aims to provide support in setting up Kidney Foundations in developing countries to help prevent chronic kidney disease, delay progression and educate kidney patients to understand their kidney disease better.

There are now 62 Kidney Foundations from 42 countries that have become members of the IFKF and several committees are set up to take Patient Education, Prevention and Treatment and Advocacy further.

The Education Committee is multidisciplinary and includes a dietitian, nurse and social worker, renal physician and a web site manager. The Inventory of educational materials (pdf file) published by several Kidney Foundations is updated regularly and available on the above website (www.ifkf.net). The website link is also a useful resource of global information for professionals and patients also translated in several languages.

Although many of the Kidney Foundations have existed for 20-40 years or more and already contribute to patient education in a major way, other countries have very little or no access to resources.

For any one who is involved with the nutritional care of Asian renal patients you may like to know about an excellent renal cookbook edited by Dr Vidya Acharya and Dr Swati Piramai from the Kidney Foundation of India.

The title is: Diet and Nutrition Guide for Patients with Renal Disease and Related Disorders. The authors are : Dr Swati Piramal and Dr V.N.Acharya.
